

Rules of Procedure

1. Chairperson asks for points on the floor.

2. Chairperson ask for motions on the floor.

First motion of the committee to open the committee: “The delegate of _____ would like to raise a motion to open formal debate. “

3. Second motion of the Committee: TO SET THE AGENDA

Verbatim: “The delegate of _____ would like to set the agenda to “Strategic Defence and National Survival amidst Full-Scale War with Iran.”

4. Third motion of the Committee and the first Speech Motion: General Speaker’s List (GSL)

Verbatim: “The delegate of _____ would like to raise a motion to begin the General Speaker’s List with per speaker time being _____ seconds on the current agenda”

5. Points:

- i. POI (Point of Information): Delegates can ask questions to other delegates on their speech. POIs are heavily marked.
- ii. POO (Point of Order): Delegates can point out factual inaccuracies and logical fallacies in a speaker’s speech. POOs are heavily marked.
- iii. Point of Parliamentary Inquiry: Delegates, at any point of time, can raise this point to enquire to the Executive Board (E.B.) about the further Rules of Procedure.
- iv. Point of Personal Privilege: Delegates can raise this point to inform the E.B. of any discomfort or any clarification over any speech or statement made by any other delegate.

NO POINTS MUST BE MADE IN BETWEEN OF SPEECHES.

6. Speeches:

- i. General Speaker's List (GSL): This is a formal debate. Speeches. These speeches are to be given by delegates at the beginning of the committee on the agenda (initially). There can be POIs and POOs on the speeches given by delegates. GSL speeches are heavily marked.

Verbatim: "The delegate of _____ would like to raise a motion to begin the General Speaker's List with per speaker time being _____ seconds on the current agenda."

- ii. Moderated Caucus: In this, delegates give speeches on a particular topic. It can be on the ongoing crisis at hand. There can be POIs and POOs on the Moderated Caucus speech given by delegates.

Verbatim: "The delegate of _____ would like to raise a motion to suspend formal debate and get into a moderated caucus with per speaker time being _____ seconds and total time being _____ minutes on the topic _____"

- iii. Unmoderated Caucus: Delegates can get out of their seats and can discuss on the current crisis and reach solutions or can lobby each other for any particular purpose. Delegates are free to use any form of language in Unmoderated Caucus as the E.B. will turn a deaf ear towards all discussions between the delegates.

Verbatim: "The delegate of _____ would like to raise a motion to suspend formal debate and get into an unmoderated caucus for _____ minutes."

- iv. Round Robbin: All delegates can speak in a Round Robbin in a coordinated and consecutive way. It rotates in either a clockwise or anticlockwise way.

Verbatim: "The delegate of _____ would like to raise a motion to start a Round Robbin with per speaker time being _____ seconds on the topic _____"

- v. Open Floor: Delegates in this informal form of debate are free to criticize and demean other delegates on their actions and decisions. Delegates are not allowed to use UNPARLIAMENTARY LANGUAGE. Delegates in this form of debate are required to raise their placards high when they want to speak and they will be chosen by the EB to speak. Each speaker will be given a rough time of 5-10 seconds to place their points. One speaker will get recognised multiple times. Open Floors are heavily MARKED. Verbatim: “The delegate of _____ would like to raise a motion to suspend formal debate and get into an Open Floor for _____ minutes.”

7. Yields:

- i. To Points of Information’s: With this yield, the Chairperson selects delegates who wish to ask you questions. Each delegate is allowed one question, and only your answer time is subtracted from your remaining time. Often the best kind of yield that you can make, yielding to questions lets you clear any misconceptions that delegates may have.
- ii. To a delegate: When you yield to another delegate, he/she is given your remaining time to speak.
- iii. To the Chair: After you make this yield, the Chairperson proceeds to the next speaker, unless there are any motions.

8. Right to Reply:

A delegate whose personal or national integrity has been impugned by another delegate may request in writing a Right of Reply. The Reply, if granted, will take the form of a thirty-second speech. Rights of Reply must be used judiciously and presented in the correct format: quoting what the offending delegate has said, the speaker’s taken offence, an offense to the national integrity, and the demand for an apology.

EST. 2023